Dear Josh:

Thank you for calling my attention to the error regarding Dodge in my memoir of Beets. I had read Beets' Nobel Address, of course, but the information about Dodge's whereabouts didn't register.

I am glad you liked the memoir. Beets was an extraordinarily interesting person--and a wonderful friend, too--and I enjoyed writing about him.

I don't recall whether I acknowledged receiving your memoir of Ed. You had a tough job there, but you acquitted yourself very well indeed. Incidentally, I just phoned the change into Elizabeth Sherman of the NAS office. In the course of our conversation, I asked if there was any chance that Beadle and Tatum could appear together in the same volume. It struck her as a good idea, and she said she would look into it. Personally, I think it is the sensible thing to do.

Yours,

Norman Horowitz
